

PLTS FALL 2020 COURSE MODALITIES

Due to COVID-19 conditions, all Fall courses will be taught online either synchronously through ZOOM or asynchronously.

“ZOOM/synchronous” means that all students and the professor meet on the screen at the same time over ZOOM every week. (ZOOM/synchronous courses meet on ZOOM at the day/time that appear in the GTU Course Schedule.)

“Asynchronous” means that students do the week’s classwork at their own time and interact with other students and the professor on the Moodle platform at different times according to the individual schedule of each student.

Note: Contextual Education courses and Formation Prayer and Practice groups are not included on the above list.

- First-year students do not take Contextual Education courses in their first Fall. Second-year Contextual Education students will follow the lead of what their sites are doing and possibly specific directions from the PLTS Contextual Education Office. Most sites are continuing their ministry in alternate ways, mostly online.
- Formation Prayer and Practice groups that would have met face2face, will meet over ZOOM at the times listed on the GTU Course Schedule. For first-year DL students there will be an asynchronous session of a Formation Prayer group (as it appears in the GTU Course Schedule).

Also note: Registration opens again July 1st. For PLTS courses, register only for the courses listed above. Course Schedules for the GTU and California Lutheran have not been updated yet and it would take some time for that to happen. If you're registering for courses offered by any other GTU school, check their website for the modalities that their courses will be using. All GTU schools have agreed to have their Fall courses and their modalities posted by July 1st (CDSP may need a bit more time).
